

City of Memphis, TN

Executive Division/Office of Information Services
Darryl D. Anderson, Chief Information Officer

November 1, 2004

Dear visitor,

On behalf of Mayor Willie W. Herenton and City of Memphis government, I want to welcome you to the new City of Memphis Web site. A year in the making, this exciting new portal is your gateway to a vast array of City information and online services. By listening to the comments, suggestions and feedback of the citizens of Memphis over the past year, we have created a site that is easier to navigate, intuitive in its design and filled with important and informative content.

The new City of Memphis Web site is another example of this administration's commitment to serve the citizen's of Memphis. The Mayor's goal of "getting citizens out of line and getting access to City services online" has been a consistent theme in our development process.

I encourage you to review the "Quick Tour" link located within the Memphis Notes section on the front page of this Web site. It will help you to become better acquainted with the new organization of content and provide answers to your questions regarding the Web site. Additionally, I invite you to submit any comments or suggestions you have regarding our new site. A "Contact Us" link is conveniently located at the bottom of the front page.

Again, thank you for visiting the new City of Memphis web site - your link to City information and online services.

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Darryl D. Anderson".

Darryl D. Anderson
Chief Information Officer